STAY IN DUBROVNIK WITH OPTIONAL EXCURSIONS – 2027
8 days / 7 nights (or 4 days / 3 nights)

INTRODUCTION

Dubrovnik is the southernmost city in Croatia. Its history is marked by its strategic position at the entrance to the navigation channels formed by Croatia's 1,200 islands. It thus evolved to become a crossroads between East and West, a free city-state that used diplomacy to maintain its position along the important trade route that was the Adriatic Sea. Thanks to this strategy, Dubrovnik achieved great wealth and an exceptional level of development. It has never been affected by wars, which explains why it is today one of the best-preserved medieval cities in the world! Every stone is in its place and tells a story. Thus, the facades are all identical, with nobility refraining from displaying their wealth to avoid generating social unrest. Slavery was abolished in the 15th century. All of these measures are characteristic of this ingenious system of merchants. It is for its beauty and especially its history that Dubrovnik is classified as a UNESCO World Heritage site and is a key tourist destination in the Mediterranean. The city comes alive for the Feast of Saint Blaise on February 3rd and during the summer period with the Dubrovnik Festival, a series of performances and concerts.

Cavtat is one of the most beautiful villages on the Dubrovnik Riviera. Thanks to its unique natural setting—sheltered by two headlands that reach out into the sea—the Romans chose this enchanting spot to establish the colony of "Epidaurus." When the settlement was destroyed following the arrival of the Croats, the refugees left to found Dubrovnik; thus, the histories of these two towns are closely intertwined. Today, Cavtat is a typical stone village with grand captains' houses, renowned for its restaurants, cafés, and a beautiful seaside promenade. It is home to a mausoleum created by the great Croatian sculptor Ivan Meštrović, a Franciscan monastery, and the birthplace of the prominent Impressionist artist Vlaho Bukovac. The principle is that the veal and lamb, along with potatoes flavored with herbs, are arranged on a platter placed on a bed of coals. The food then becomes crispy on the outside and tender on the inside… paired with local wines, it's a true delight.
